LIBRARY EXPANSION UPDATE

If you've passed by the library lately, you've likely noticed that construction is moving right along. Thanks to the ongoing efforts of Capelle Brothers and Diedrich Construction, both exterior and interior work are steadily progressing. State approval FINALLY came through, however, one more key piece remains on hold—we're still finalizing an important issue regarding HVAC, which is necessary before we can move forward with completing the structure. We appreciate your continued patience as we work through this final detail. In the meantime, exciting things are happening behind the scenes. Planning is already underway for furniture purchases, and we'll soon be launching a special fundraising campaign to help fill the new library with meaningful, lasting additions.

Even more exciting—Harold and Grace Kurtz have generously pledged to match donations to this campaign up to $10,000! Their support is a wonderful boost as we work to create a welcoming and inspiring space for our entire community.

Thank you for sticking with us through every step of this journey—we're so close to the finish line, and we can't wait to share the next chapter of our library with you!
